VOL. VIII. NO. 25 — FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY, JULY 29, 1894 — PRICE—5 CENTS

TARIFF LEGISLATION

A Second Meeting of the Committee.

AN EXCHANGE OF VIEWS

Practically the Senate Bill Or There Will be No Tariff Legislation.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—When the former conference broke up the house members were disposed to hold out for the concessions on cutlery and steel rails. The prospects now are that the rate on rails will be lowered somewhat, but that the cutlery rate will not be changed. The senate conferees will probably accept the house rate of $1 per pound on wrapper tobacco, retaining the senate phraseology. There will also be some changes in the woolen schedule. The senate bill provides a duty of 40 per cent on articles class of less than 50 per cent per pound value, and 50 per cent on articles of greater value. The indications are that the rate will be made 45 per cent.

Chairman Wilson saw several members of the house in the early part of the day. Wilson regarded the situation extremely precarious, and as presenting a choice between the senate bill, somewhat modified, and the continuance of the McKinley law. He regarded the former as the lesser evil.

Members of the house in speaking of accepting the senate bill used words as meaning coal, iron and sugar. As there is no doubt of a compromise on many other schedules, on these items the house members feel that there may be some slight change in the senate rates, although the substantial features will stand. Cotton cloths and cotton yarns will probably be reduced about 5 per cent, as will laces and embroideries, on which its rate will probably be made 45 instead of 50 cents. The rates on china and earthenware, which are slightly higher than those of the senate, will be accepted. The senate probably will recede from its increase of the tobacco tax, and it is said probably that there will be a compromise on the bonded period extension, the tax being fixed at $1 and the bonded period at five years.

Chairman Wilson arrived from West Virginia this morning, and within a short time received a message from the executive mansion requesting his presence there. He was with the President until necessary to go to the capitol for the opening of the second conference. Early in the session the conference was devoted to an exchange of views on the situation, with the senate members doing a greater part of the talking. They told the house members that, in the present feeling in the senate, it was out of the question for the senate conferees to make any concession on the principle articles in dispute, and that in their opinion the conference would have to adopt practically the senate bill or there would be no tariff legislation. The house Democratic conferees after the general conference with the senate ended retired, and four of the house conferees held a secret session.

BOXING TOURNAMENT.

Fitzsimmons Knocked Miller Out in Two Rounds.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 28.—The much exploited boxing tournament of Billy Madden took place this evening. The star match was a bout between Bob Fitzsimmons, champion middle-weight, and Frank Miller, a heavy-weight from Ypsilanti, Mich. It lasted two brief rounds. In the first Miller rushed and swung heavily and landed once on Fitzsimmons' face and chased him to his corner as time was called. In the second Fitzsimmons walked out to Miller's corner and smashed him once on the jaw and all was over. It took a force of surgeons to bring Miller to life. The battle between Jim Daly, Corbett's old sparring partner, and Tom Lynch, the Irish giant, was stopped by the police in the first round because Lynch refused to regard Queensberry rules. He got Daly down on the floor and tried to bite a piece out of him.

A Woman Instantly Killed.

UKIAH, Calif.—July 28.—An accident occurred on the Boonville road, five miles from this city today by which Mrs. Lydia Brantner was instantly killed by the overturning of the vehicle in which she and two children were riding. The brakes on the wagon were defective and the team and wagon were thrown over a steep embankment. The mother was instantly killed but the children escaped injury.

Bicycle Record Broken.

LONDON, July 28.—In the twenty-four hour bicycle race at Herne hill grounds finished today, Shorland of London covered 460 miles and 900 yards, Peterson of Coventry covered 430 miles and Chapple of Chelsea covered 426 miles. The world's record was broken by two miles.

A Chinese Leper.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Internal revenue inspectors today discovered a Chinese leper in a lodging house in the Chinese quarter over a butcher shop. The afflicted Mongolian had occupied the same room thirteen years, having the disease during the entire period of residence there.

State Troops Not Needed.

SACRAMENTO, July 28. — Governor Markham said this afternoon that he did not think there was any further need for state troops in the field and that he had decided to order all of them home immediately.

The Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Wheat—Quiet and steady; December, 99 5-8c; new seller, 91½c.

Bran, $16 a ton.

The Plague Taking Chinamen.

HONGKONG, July 28.—Sir W. Robinson, governor of Hongkong, reports that 120,000 people have died from the plague in Canton district.

Hot Day in New York.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The United States bureau reports today as the hottest of the year. At 12.30 p.m. the thermometer registered 95 degrees.

Races at Willows.

WILLOWS, July 28.—There are so many entries for the coming races that the directors decided to have a two weeks' meeting.

Railroad Collision.

TACOMA, Wash., July 28.—The eastbound Northern Pacific overland passenger ran into the west bound freight train at South Prairie this morning. An unknown man stealing a ride on the passenger engine was killed. Fireman Clement of the freight was injured and today had a leg amputated. Engineer Robinson of the freight, lost the compressed air going down the grade, whereby losing control of the train. Before it could be signalled the passenger crashed into it, a heavy fog preventing the headlight being seen. Engineer Robinson of the freight left the engine and has not been seen. Had his train been stopped on the switch as ordered it would have been safe.

Garden City Wheelmen.

SAN JOSE, July 28.—Otto Ziegler and Walter Foster demonstrated this morning what they could have done last night if cool heads among officials at the Garden City race meet had predominated. Both men cut big slices from the coast records for one mile. At 10 o'clock Walter Foster started to break the flying start mile, being paced by members of the Rambler team. His time was 2.07 3-5. Ziegler cut the standing mile to 2.09 with the same pace makers. Both records are official, the required officials to make them so being present.

THE STRIKERS' TRIAL.

TELEGRAMS SENT BY KNOX PRODUCED.

Worden and Hatch Stole the Locomotive and Pullman at Lathrop.

WOODLAND, July 28.—During the examination of the A.R.U. men accused of train wrecking today it was proved that the prisoners, Worden and Hatch, were the leaders in the crowd of strikers that stole a locomotive and Pullman coach at Lathrop and ran to Stockton, where fifty more strikers were taken on, and then to Sacramento.

M. J. Crosby, a Southern Pacific foreman at Stockton, testified that he talked with Worden at Stockton and that during the argument Worden said: "If worst comes to worst we can fight, we can make bombs of the very best material."

The manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Sacramento, who had been ordered to produce copies of all telegrams sent by the A.R.U. leaders, was next called. He handed the telegrams demanded to the court. The dispatches were all from Knox to various A.R.U. men and their general tenor was to urge the men to stand firm. There was only one damning to the defendant. This read: "McClintock, Truckee, state troops here; you come with all means and volunteers. Come by train at once without orders. A. K. Knox."

At the opening of the afternoon session General Hart proposed that in order to save time it be considered that all the telegrams that Mr. Sonf had brought with him, 128 in number, be considered in evidence. The prosecution agreed, and the matter was so decided.

General Hart took the witness for cross-examination. He evidently was wondering what had become of that noted telegram alleged to have been sent to Willows by Knox requesting armed assistance. The first thing hainquired about was whether that telegram had been sent. The witness was positive it had not, or else he would have found it in his search. He had read about it in the papers, but to his knowledge no such telegram had been sent. He could not swear that Mr. Knox or Mr. Mullin had signed any of the dispatches which had been sent.

Attorney Woods of San Francisco, a representative of the Pacific Postal Telegraph Company demanded that no dispatches of the company sent from Sacramento be produced. He was requested to wait till the next witness was called.

J. K. Beede, the Postal Company's operator was summoned. Upon request of the prosecution that the court make an order compelling the company to produce certain telegrams in pursuance to the subpœna, Mr. Woods arose to protest, if his honor would listen and his honor was listening, but he said it in a forbidding tone, and Carroll Cook smiled complacently as he considered the probability of a repetition of the victory he had won in the fight to make the company show up its dispatches. If it desired the company would produce them. He read a decision from the supreme court of Missouri and California upholding the position he had taken.

Carroll Cook replied for the prosecution. He said that the only contention was as to whether the subpœna was sufficient. There was no plea that the court had not the power to compel the production of the messages. The authorities read by Wood were in cases where the subœnas were not complete and sufficient.

Judge Fisher was of the opinion that the case of the Western Union was good and sufficient, and that a similar order be made regarding the Postal Company. Court then adjourned to 10 o'clock Monday morning.

A Printer Shot.

LOMPOC, Cal., July 28.—James L. Whitton, foreman of the Journal printing office, was shot and fatally wounded last night by William Shean, town marshal, and once deputy sheriff. The men quarreled in a saloon over money matters.

Reckless Drivers.

Mrs. Wm. Harvey escaped what might have been a serious accident yesterday afternoon. She was driving down Tulare street with four of her children in a surrey and when about opposite P street two apparently drunken men in a heavy road cart approached them. Mrs. Harvey drove up close to the curbing to let them go by, but they dashed into the surrey, knocking nearly all the spokes out of one wheel and smashing the vehicle up generally. When the two rigs finally stopped they were tangled about the poplar trees on the sidewalk. The occupants of the surrey received no other injuries than a severe shaking up.

A Queer Address.

The sorters at the Fresno postoffice are tolerably patient men as a rule, but they occasionally get addressed letters which cause them to "come cussedly near swearing a profane oath." Here is a sample: "A ul sig nierf rancis cocecopo tomcat min con cost cut cally." These mysterious hieroglyphics were scrawled all over the envelope without regard to space or lines. After tying a wet towel around his head an expert arrived at the conclusion that the address was intended to read as follows: "A el (to the) Signor Francisco Cocopo, Tomcat mine, Contra Costa county, California." The latter was duly forwarded.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Death and Ruin From Forest Fires.

TOWN OF PHILLIPS IN ASHES

Thirteen Persons Drowned While Trying to Escape From the Flames.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 28.—The prosperous town of Phillips, the county seat of Price county, is in ashes. Three thousand people are homeless. Thirteen lives were lost. All the dead were drowned in Elk lake while trying to escape from the fire, except one man whose charred body was found in the ruins of a house. The loss to property in Phillips alone is over a million and a quarter of dollars. Several families with some of their possessions boarded a floating boat house and pushed out into the lake. Soon the craft began to sink and then they took to the boats but in the gale capsized almost immediately and were drowned.

The volunteer fire department had been working two days to prevent the flames coming to Phillips. As the flames approached the roar of the fire could be heard across the swamp. When it was evident Phillips would be destroyed the Davis Lumber Company made a train of its cars to take the women and children to a place of safety. The train proceeded a short distance when the bridge burned and the cars were forced to return to the blazing city. Later many were conveyed to Prentice, twelve miles distant. There is much suffering for lack of food. A relief committee has been organized and is securing supplies from neighboring towns. Six carloads of provisions left Milwaukee tonight in charge of Governor Peck.

ASHLAND, Wis., July 28.—At Mason the houses of the town proper are still standing, but the loss from the fire there will reach $700,000. Briefly summarized, the fires have burned as follows: City of Phillips, entirely wiped out; City of Mason, practically destroyed; headquarters Ashland Lumber Company, burned at White River; two bridges on the main line of the Omaha and two bridges on the Wisconsin Central railroad. A number of homesteaders scattered through the burning timber have perished in the flames.

A Crap Game Robbed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—A crap game conducted by Billy Kennedy and Joe Harvey, at 33 Eddy street, was relieved of $700 at noon today. Three men wearing masks made of handkerchiefs and armed with revolvers covered Patsy Wolf, an attache of the place. Then they bound him with ropes and carried off the cash.

Striking Machinists Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Two striking machinists in the railroad shops at Sacramento, A. G. Greenlaw and H. E. Badmer, arrested first for retarding the mails and now charged with rebellion and conspiracy against the United States government, are in jail here. Bail has been fixed at $10,000, which they cannot raise.

Death From a Fall.

SAN JOSE, July 28.—This afternoon at the Wild West show Phillip Hawley, youngest son of Major W. G. Hawley, fell from his horse and sustained injuries which resulted in his death nine hours later. Hawley attempted to pick his hat from the ground while on his horse.

CHARGED WITH FELONY.

Stolen Harness Found on John Havard's Place.

Several serious charges are to be answered in court by John Havard, who lives six miles west of F. D. Vanderlip's ranch. The arrest of Havard was brought about by the discovery that he was driving a horse on which was harness stolen from F. M. Curran last June. Curran saw the harness on a horse hitched at the Buckeye store. He asked the driver where he got the harness and was told that they were made in Fresno.

Satisfied that the harness was his, Mr. Curran notified Constable Shaw who soon arrived only to find that the man had gone. But he gave pursuit and found him at Porteous' shop, hitching the horse. When Havard saw the constable he started down the street rather faster than people usually walk when the thermometer is near 100 in the shade. The officer caught him and when Havard was questioned concerning the harness he told conflicting stories, saying finally that he bought the harness of a second hand dealer on K street. This was soon found to be false and Havard was taken before Justice Austin, where he agreed that his premises might be searched and he went with officers Shaw and Russell.

When the ranch was reached several other articles, of more or less value, were found, all believed to have been stolen. The most valuable of them was a fine buggy, worth when new about $300. Havard said he bought it of Truman, Hooker & Co. for $125. But they said they had not sold the buggy, and never had handled that style of vehicles. It is believed to be a buggy which was stolen from F. P. Wickersham about two years ago. It was formerly the property of S. N. Stranbe. There were other things found, also, about Havard's premises, among which was a mowing machine and more harness. He was brought back to Fresno and went to jail on default of bail in the sum of $2000. He will have to answer a charge of felony. He is an Englishman, 37 years old, and has been well spoken of by those who knew him.

Having concluded to leave Fresno, all persons indebted to me must call and settle their bills at once.

J. E. REILY, M.D.

WILL STAY IN FRESNO.

An Englishman Who Prefers California to Manitoba.

Charles Trubshawe, a young Englishman just under age, came here from the old country a few days ago with letters of introduction from London to Host Tombs of this city. The visitor had evidently come to California with the prevailing eastern idea that the orthodox Californian wears a cowboy hat, a razor in his boot, a chip on his shoulder and a six-shooter in his belt. Mr. Trubshawe accordingly appeared in a cowboy costume himself and was evidently prepared for the worst.

He had been in Fresno but a few hours when he got to like it. True it was "bloomin' 'ot," as the illiterate element of Mr. Trubshawe's countrymen would have said, but the balmy evening breezes wooed him, and he found that men who had been to Manitoba had come back with the tip of their nose, or part of an ear or a stray finger frozen off.

Mr. Trubshaw took in the situation and decided to give Fresno county the preference as a home. He will have a nice little sum to start with when he comes of age, and has gone to work at the Fancher creek nursery to make himself practically acquainted with the details of budding, grafting and the vineyard business. He is a genial young man and has made many friends already.

A TRIP TO THE POUND.

MR. CROW'S MENAGERIE OF DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

Some Cheap Bargains in Horseflesh and Stray Canines—A Peep At the Crematory.

Poundmaster A. D. Crow is a philosopher in his way, and his establishment on the west end of Tulare street, near Joe Spinney's brickyard, is worth visiting in more ways than one.

The lot of the dog catcher (as the street urchins disrespectfully style Mr. Crow) is not supposed to be a happy one, any more than that of the average policeman, and yet Mr. Crow, like the typical policeman, is plump, rosy and happy. Hamlet's gravedigger sang at grave-making, and Mr. Crow doesn't feel a bit mortified when the boys and girls turn and gay him when he goes down a street with his wagon and net in search of stray dogs. All's fish that that comes to Mr. Crow's net, and a survey of the interior of the dogs' quarters at the pound gives the idea that business is quite brisk.

There are too many dogs in Fresno anyhow, and Mr. Crow's business is a necessary evil. He has quite an assortment of mongrel curs in bondage now, but the number will be woefully thinned out in a few days. A dozen dogs are sometimes gathered in during a single day, but three or four is the average. As soon as the arrivals reach the pound they are turned into a small shanty divided into three sections, by partitions between five or six feet high. The new arrivals are put in section number one. They remain there one day, and if unclaimed are passed into section two, where they remain another day. On the third day they are transferred to the third section, and then their fate is decided. It is one of two things, either to be sold or to be killed. The question is very promptly settled by the simple test of personal merit. Three-fourths of the canines that remain in section three are mongrels and curs, who, as the disgruntled spinister remarked of the inflexible bachelor, are "no account anyway." Some of the curs look as if they had half a dozen strains in their uncurry and when they are dispatched by a single deft blow of an ax there is no mourner for them. Greyhounds, collies and spaniels are usually claimed or sold at prices from $1 to $2.50 apiece, but $1 will buy most any dog nowadays. When the axe has fallen the carcass of the canine is immediately transferred to the crematory near by and in half an hour it is reduced to a handful of dust and white ashes which Mr. Crow philosophically observes "makes the best kind of chicken feed."

The man who loses his dog, or horse, or pig, or jack, or cow, has only to look at the list on the pound gate. He will do better by not wasting time. If it is a dog, three days is the limit. A cow or a horse may be kept a little longer. There is no hope of recovering an animal after it has been sold, as the city gives a bill of sale to the purchaser and the title reads clear.

When a horse is to be destroyed the same crematory is used as in the case of the dogs. The dead horse is hoisted by a derrick and dropped into the furnace from the top, while the dogs are thrust in at the door. But the end is the same, a small heap of white ashes.

Horses are cheap enough at the pound. THE REPUBLICAN reporter was shown one wretched, bony neglected specimen, for which the crematory was evidently yearning, and was told that two-bits would buy it. A dollar is not refused in certain cases, and a $5 gold piece will buy a very serviceable animal.

It is due to Mr. Crow to say that while he has to be tip-staff, judge and executioner, all in one, he transacts his business mercifully. The animals are fed and watered up to the last moment of their lives, and when they leave the pound by the gateway, at the heels of a hurchaer, instead of going up in smoke at the crematory, they are always in better condition than when they entered.

THE CASE OF BEN HILL.

The Republican's "Man About Town" must have been on a sort of Rip Van Winkle sleep somewhere. In this morning's paper he brings up an old story concerning Ben Hill, the Populist candidate for sheriff, that was exploded long ago. That he (Hill) tried to have Cardwell, the Populist candidate two years ago withdraw from the race in the interest of Jay Scott. I. L. Granger worked that for all it was worth at the Populist convention and was turned down. Cardwell himself denies it. Give us something new.—The Independent.

The above is from a weekly Populist paper printed in this city. Like most papers of its political faith, the chief object of its existence appears to be to preach the doctrine of Populist perfection and the black and damning infamy of everything else political. The people who have saved money it classes as "plutocrats" and fit subjects for the undying enmity of those who have made less money. Newspapers which do not subscribe to its peculiar political tenets are referred to as the "plutocratic press," corporation hirelings, enemies of the people, etc. This weekly paper, which is a fair representative of its class, is just now varying its congenial occupation of denouncing men and institutions whose records have been an open book in the community, read and approved by honest men regardless of their political belief, by advocating the claims of certain local candidates for office.

This Populist organ, which is so pure and high minded that it never has a decent or a truthful thing to say of anything or anybody outside the range encompassed by its narrow political bigotry, is making a specialty of booming Ben Hill, the Populist nominee for sheriff of Fresno county. And this is perfectly natural. The congeniality of the newspaper and the candidate cannot be doubted.

It is seldom that The Republican goes out of its way to notice anything coming from a source of morbid fanaticism, but as in this instance the truth of a positive statement made in these columns is denied, we will digress somewhat from our usual custom. When The Republican prints the news it gives it with as much accuracy as its facilities for collecting it will admit. Current rumors and the gossip of the day concerning politics or other topics of public interest it gives as such, stating the source from which they emanate, and leaving its readers to judge as to their value and importance.

When The Republican makes a positive statement as seriously reflecting upon any one as the fact that Ben Hill attempted to play the part of a traitor to his party in the last campaign it does not make it without positive information and the ability to prove its assertion fully and absolutely. Ben Hill did exactly what The Republican said he did. He made a persistent effort to induce the Populist nominee for sheriff to sell his party out by withdrawing from the ticket at a time when it would be too late for another candidate to make a canvass. Mr. Cardwell, the nominee, not being a petty jobber and a political bunco steerer of the Hill stripe, indignantly spurned the proposition, and notwithstanding the rebuff, Hill approached him the second time and used his most persuasive eloquence now so liberally heard from the Populist stump denouncing "old party" dishonesty, to induce him to desert his party in the midst of the battle for the most selfish and dishonorable motives.

When this immaculately pure Populist organ says that Mr. Cardwell has denied that Hill attempted this dirty job it says that which it knows to be absolutely false, or would know it if it had taken the trouble to find out whether it was the truth or not. The Republican earns every cent it gets by hard work and honest business methods, but it now offers Ben Hill $100 in hard cash to assist him in making his present canvass if he will produce a denial from W. M. Cardwell that he (Hill) made such proposition to him.

It is an easy thing to accuse The Republican of lying. If Ananias himself were in the flesh in the form of a political demagogue or a sneaking hypocrite, he could easily do that. But it is quite another thing to prove it. To Ben Hill and his newspaper advocate we will say that the columns of The Republican are open to them for vindication, and $100 is ready for them whenever they produce the proof that Hill did not do exactly what this paper said he did. We cannot make a fairer offer than this, and failure to accept it can have but one meaning.

The aristocratic element of Pasadena are making an effort to have their "Nob Hill" set apart as a district in which no cheap residences may be constructed, by means of an ordinance similar to that which prohibits the erection of wooden buildings within a fire limit. This is drawing the line pretty strong. The right to prohibit the erection of a certain class of buildings within a fire limit is recognized because of the danger involved to property, but the discomfiture sustained by the rich in living near the abodes of the humble is not recognized by law, nor is it likely that it ever will be in this country. Under such an ordinance as that suggested at Pasadena the man of moderate means who happened to own a lot within the sacred boundaries would either have to hold it in unprofitable disuse or sell it to somebody with plenty of money at such price as might be offered. He would be deprived of using it for his own benefit. The authorities at Pasadena will hardly adopt such an ordinance, but should they do so the bottom will be knocked out of it by the supreme court should it ever be passed upon by that body.

The most amusing feature about the dispatches which recorded the appearance of the meteor of Friday night is the fact that at pretty nearly every place in Central California where it was distinctly seen the people were confident that the meteor fell just outside the limits of their city. Some of the places are hundreds of miles apart, but not one of the towns which claimed the aerolite has been able to find it. Lodi, Woodland, San Jose, Santa Barbara, Wawona and Mojave were among the places in which the critics saw the meteor fall just outside of town. As a matter of fact a body which enters the earth's atmosphere at a height of forty miles, ignites and descends to the earth in from ten to twenty seconds, is liable to be erroneously located as to distance even by fairly experienced observers, and a search for the aerolite itself is very like looking for a needle in a haystack.

The foreign immigration plank of the Republican state platform seems a little radical at first glance, but events which have occurred since its adoption warrant total exclusion of foreign laborers, until such time at least as it has been demonstrated that we are able to keep those we have here from destroying the government. It will be admitted, of course, that all the turbulence is not the acts of foreigners, but a large proportion of it is and the rest is due to foreign fanaticism and hate which has been instilled into the American mind by a class of foreigners whose time and energy before coming here has been devoted to schemes for undermining the governments under which they have lived. The immigration of foreign labor should be stopped until we have succeeded in Americanizing the foreign population we now have.

A Los Angeles man is going to start an ice factory at Bakersfield. The climate is all that could be desired for the industry, and the population is probably sufficient to support a small plant. Fresno is the best field in the valley for an ice factory.

An exchange asks: "Do strikes pay?" Judging by the last one they do not pay anybody but the salaried managers, and their profits are likely to be consumed in paying lawyers to keep them out of jail.

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels diseases, giving the patient health and happiness where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.

For primary, secondary and tertiary syphilis, for blood poisoning, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic ulcers, tetter, scald head, boils, erysipelas, eczema—we may say, without fear of contradiction, that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world, and makes positive, speedy and permanent cures in all cases.

Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P.—Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893.—I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 35 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy without finding relief. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.

Sequin, Tex., January 14, 1893.
Messrs. Lippman Bros., Savannah, Ga.: Gentlemen—I have tried your P. P. The charge of threatened offense against John H. Thornton at Reedley was tried Friday before Justice Fairweather, and the matter was taken under advisement. Abbott the defense.

The ever reliable house of Louis Einstein & Co. inaugurated on Saturday morning a clearance sale of summer dress goods, in accordance with their announcement on the fourth page of THE REPUBLICAN. If dull times are the rule now, it was certainly not visible at their store, while crowds of eager buyers thronged their place all day long, and at the rate bundles were made up, this great sale of first-class bargains will last but a very few days. No sample of the goods advertised will be cut during this sale.

The Silver Market Improving.

The people of the San Joaquin valley are indebted to the Leading Dry Goods House of Fresno, W. McCallum & Co., for the wonderful advance in the purchasing power of silver during the past three weeks. In order to meet the altered conditions which will be caused by the passage of the Wilson bill, the house determined to close out its entire stock regardless of loss.

The sale has been the most successful ever inaugurated in this city, perhaps on the coast, and will continue until the entire stock is disposed of. Readers of THE REPUBLICAN should not fail to examine the display ad. on this page and take advantage of the greatest bargains ever offered in the dry goods line. The sale will continue until the stock is closed out.

FRESNO'S SOCIAL SWIM

Lawn Socials the Events of the Week.

OUR SOCIETY IS DORMANT

Nuptuals That are Rumored Will be Solemnized This Week—Evenings at Home are Popular.

Socially the past few weeks have been extremely quiet and entirely void of any social functions, other than a number of lawn socials given by the various church organizations. One can hardly expect anything else in this community during the heated term, but this summer seems to be duller than usual. Heretofore those who were not so fortunate as to spend the summer at the seaside or the mountains have always managed to meet once in a while at an afternoon tea or at an evening gathering, and thus the warm months did not drag so heavily. But this year, for some unaccountable reason, those at home have not shown the slightest inclination to make any kind of a social move.

The lawn socials during the past week seemed to bring out a number of our society people. Friday evening seems to have a peculiar charm for these events, last week three taking place on that evening. The young people of the South Methodist church entertained at the residence of Mrs. A. Birkhead, when they took entire possession of the house and lawn. The Emanuel Baptist young people held forth at the residence of Rev. I. D. Wood on Jensen avenue and the young folks of the Christian church spent a pleasant evening at the residence of Alex Gordon near the race track. All the events were well attended, but, for some reason, the young ladies were decidedly in the majority in every instance. Either our young men have become exceedingly bashful or else the number of young ladies in our community has been numerically increased of late.

Miss Louise Wright has already gained for herself the reputation of being a delightful entertainer at her Friday evening at homes. Miss Wright has proved herself a charming hostess and the little gatherings are greatly enjoyed. She has also shown herself to be a vocalist of no mean ability.

Miss Maggie and Myrtle Harrell seem to have been made the object of a rather pleasant conspiracy Thursday evening. It was their evening at home, but the callers by prearrangement came down in rather large numbers. The young ladies showed themselves very able entertainers and carried all before them.

Cupid appears to have had a busy time of it of late, uniting "Two souls with but a single thought." The engagement of Lee Gray to Miss Verdenal was a surprise to some, but his most intimate friends were aware of his designs long ago.

The engagement of John A. Neu to Miss Lola Avila of Fresno is also announced.

The event of the week is reported to be the wedding of Dr. DeZeng and Mrs. Georgina Wills, which, it is rumored, will take place the latter part of the week. Mrs. Wills has been in Fresno but a short time but her pleasant manner and winning way was so captivating that she was soon surrounded by a host of friends. Dr. Zeng arrived here but a few weeks ago from Santa Rosa which was the scene of their first acquaintance. The Doctor is to be congratulated on having won so fair a hand.

Ella Haber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haber, gave a very enjoyable birthday party to a number of her young friends Friday afternoon. The little folks were given the entire freedom of the house and lawn, and judging from the happy smiles that wreathed their pretty little faces, it is safe to say they used the privilege to advantage.

The candidates' ball to be given next Wednesday evening at Austin hall, Central colony, under the auspices of the "Old Friends' Club," is being looked forward to with considerable interest. Several coaching parties are getting ready for the event, and no doubt there will be a jolly time.

CUNNING CHINESE.

They Counterfeit the Sperry Flour Sacks.

The Chinese over in their own flowery kingdom may be slow in some things, but in others they are up to the latest tricks of civilization.

For several years some piratical Chinese firms across the Pacific have been infringing on the brand of the Sperry mill flour, and it is only quite recently that a stop has been put to the business.

The flour made at the Sperry mill is considered by the English importers at Hongkong the finest made anywhere in the world, and it brings the top figure. It sells in China for about $1.75 a sack, Mexican money. Other brands of flour are cheaper, some being 50 cents less in price per sack.

Several years ago Sperry & Co. ascertained that inferior grades of flour were being sold in China under their brand, and they sent an agent across the ocean to investigate. He found that cloth identical with that used in making the Sperry flour sacks was being manufactured by a Bombay cotton mill and sent to China, where it was printed. The brand was an exact duplicate of the genuine one, and so the fraud was beyond detection so far as the dealers were concerned. The sacks were then filled with the cheap Oregon flour, which was put on the market as genuine Sperry flour. The Chinese firms engaged in the business reaped a big harvest.

Sperry & Co. then registered their brand, and as an additional precaution, secured specially woven cloth from the Eastern cotton mill which furnishes them with sacks. The cloth had two blue stripes running through it. The effect of this move was seen at once, as it put an immediate stop to the fraud.

Later on, however, it was found that imposition was again being practiced, and another investigation was undertaken. It resulted in the discovery that empty Sperry sacks were being brought up and refilled with Oregon flour. As the sacks could be purchased in China at from 5 to 10 cents apiece there remained a big profit for the Chinese engaged in the business.

It was decided to take legal action against the people who were refilling the sacks and thus selling low-grade flour under a false brand. The suits were decided recently in favor of the Sperry people and since then the corporation has experienced no trouble of that nature.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

The Unterrified are Industriously Throwing Out the Life Lines.

From 2 o'clock till nearly 5 yesterday the members of the Democratic County central committee were in close consultation in an upper room of Temple Bar building. The doors were closed against all outsiders, and an ominous and deathlike silence reigned within the precincts of their room. It was not a stormy session, such as usually takes place when Democrats meet to lay out the highways for their campaigns.

On the contrary the unbroken stillness, not interrupted so much as by the fall of a pin or a demijohn, indicated that there was a condition and not a theory looming up before the unterrified, and that they were preparing to throw out the life lines in hope of finding solid land somewhere.

PRIZES FOR PLANTS.

The Sunset Seed and Plant Co. at the Midwinter Fair.

In the matter of seeds and plants, the Sunset Seed and Plant Co. carried off the honors at the Midwinter Fair.

This company, whose seed farm and nurseries at Menlo Park have received so many favorable notices, had quite an exhibit at the fair. Of the character and quality of this exhibit something may be judged when it is learned that the following prizes were awarded the Sunset Seed and Plant Co.:

First prize for garden field seeds and horticultural requisites.

First prize for sweet pea seeds of superior quality and large variety.

First prize for sweet pea blossoms.

First prize for ornamental and decorative plants.

A seed and plant company that could carry off so many prizes should certainly be regarded as a leading concern in its line.

Attention

In time to any irregularity of the Stomach, Liver, or Bowels may prevent serious consequences. Indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, biliousness, and vertigo indicate certain functional derangements, the best remedy for which is Ayer's Pills. Purely vegetable, sugar-coated, easy to take and quick to assimilate, this is the ideal family medicine—the most popular, safe, and useful aperient in pharmacy. MRS. M. A. BROCKWELL, Harris, Tenn., says:

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills cured me of sick headache and my husband of neuralgia. We think there is

and have induced many to use it.

"Thirty-five years ago this Spring, I was run down by hard work and a succession of colds, which made me so feeble that it was an effort for me to walk. I consulted the doctors, but kept sinking lower until I had given up all hope of ever being better. Happening to be in a store, one day, where medicines were sold, the proprietor noticed my weak and sickly appearance, and, after a few questions as to my health, recommended me to try Ayer's Pills. I had little faith in these or any other medicine, but concluded, at last, to take his advice and try a box. Before I had used them all, I was very much better, and two boxes cured me. I am now 80 years old; but I believe that if it had not been for Ayer's Pills, I should have been in my grave long ago. I buy 6 boxes every year, which make 210 boxes up to this time, and I would no more be without them than without bread."—H. H. Ingraham, Rockland, Me.

DESPERATE PURSUIT

Deputy Peck Captures a Horse Thief.

CHASED TWO HUNDRED MILES

Overtaken in Lemoore — Expected the Strike to Help Him Escape.

Deputy Sheriff Peck yesterday made a somewhat remarkable capture in Lemoore, rather he caused the capture, but the actual arrest was made by a constable of Kings county. The man arrested is named Walter Lowe, charged with stealing a horse and buggy from Mr. Stephens, on Cherry avenue, on July 1st. The pursuit, which has been kept up by Sheriff Scott and his deputies, was no doubt more unrelenting than the thief had anticipated, and when Peck once struck his trail, he gave him a chase of more than 200 miles, which will come up with anything on record.

The horse was stolen at the beginning of the strike, when all the trains were tied up, and it seems that Lowe depended on this to help him escape. It probably did help him, for no description cards could be sent out.

For several days the foothills east of Fresno were searched, on the supposition that the thief had gone that way. A certain house in Fresno, where Lowe had been accustomed to stop, was watched, expecting him to show up there. But he had made a straight dash for the south.

At the close of the Sanders trial Detective A. B. Lawson returned to Los Angeles, and at the request of Sheriff Scott, he was on the lookout for the thief, and soon discovered that he had been in Los Angeles. The Sheriff here was notified, and Deputy Sheriff Peck, with a good team, started out on the rather wild hunt for a man 300 miles away.

He reached Ventura on his way south, and almost ran over the man he was looking for. But Lowe got a tip some way, and then the race began. He started out to escape, and Peck was determined to capture him. They went through Santa Barbara, with the officer only a few minutes behind him. The thief headed north along the coast, and Peck hung on his trail like a Cossack, and many times was almost upon him, but each time the man got away. Lowe's horse began to fail on him, and Peck saw that he would be overtaken unless he made some move for another. That was easy. He left his jaded horse at San Luis Obispo and stole another. This was Thursday night, and they were 130 miles from Ventura, the starting point.

Peck was determined that there should be "no rest for the wicked," and he still pursued, crossed the mountain to Marguerittа close behind the fugitive, followed him across the Salinas river, over the ridges to Huer-Huero, and on to Cholame, often only a few minutes behind him, and from there over the Coast mountains and across Sunflower valley and on toward Lemoore.

When in the vicinity of the latter town the road forked, and this delayed the officer a few minutes, as he took one road and the fugitive had taken the other. But the race was about at an end. Mr. Peck had sent word to Lemoore to watch out for the thief, and the constable picked up Mr. Lowe as soon as he entered town and held him till Peck came up a few minutes later.

It is supposed that Lowe was heading for Fresno, expecting to hide here a short time and then pass on but he would have been trapped nicely had he reached here, for Sheriff Scott was ready for him.

It was expected that Peck would arrive in Fresno last night with the prisoner, but he had not reached here at midnight.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

John D. Beam Crushed to Death by Falling Rocks.

On Friday last John D. Beam, manager of the Live Oak Mining Company at Conrse Gold, was killed by the caving in of the hanging wall. He and others had been at work, and when the rock fell it crushed him without warning. He spoke only once and death resulted in a few moments, although he was immediately taken out from under the rocks.

He left a wife, sister and mother to mourn his loss. He was buried yesterday at O'Neal's.

"Nick" in Hard Luck.

When "Nick" Justy started out for a day's trip to the Kings river beyond Centerville yesterday, it was with pleasant visions of a day beside the stream, with the usual picnic accompaniments. Last night he was seeking relief from the irritation of a face swollen to twice its normal dimensions by the joint operation of the solar rays and mosquitos. To make matters worse the dog ate up Nick's lunch and the faithless stream was dry. Nick brought back with him a sample branch of prunes a foot long weighing over a pound, part of a bough six feet long. He states that an immense number of fruit trees along the '76 canal are lying dead on the ground, the seepage from the ditch having washed out the earth from the roots.

Death of an Estimable Lady.

Mrs. A. A. Woodruff, a sister of G. A. Everts, died Friday night at the residence of her brother on Popular avenue. She resided in Fresno about three years, coming here from Kewanee, Ill., where her husband at one time held the position of senator from that district. Her husband passed away several years ago and there are no children to mourn her death. The deceased was an aunt of O. L. Everts, whom she reared from early childhood.

The remains will be shipped to Kewanee for burial. O. L. Everts will accompany the corpse to pay a last sad tribute to her memory.

A short service will be held at the house on Popular avenue this afternoon.

Did Not Read Signs.

Charles Arning and William Ahrning were yesterday arrested by Deputy Sheriff Stevens in the court house park and were taken before Justice Austin. They had neglected the warnings posted on nearly every tree in the park that a portion of the enclosure is reserved for ladies and children, and they were wolowing on the forbidden grass. There has been much bother on this score of late. The two defendants, although they have names much the same, are not relatives. They said they had work just out of town, and the Judge allowed them to go and do it.

Fire Near Selma.

Thursday night the residence and barn of Fred Drew, northeast of Selma, were burned with nearly all their contents. The fire started from the stove, where overheated grease became ignited. A few articles were saved from the front rooms of the building. The barn probably caught from a spark. Some of the farm machinery was pulled out of the shed, and the other things were burned. There were no horses in the barn. The loss was $1500, insurance $650.

SHERMAN ON PULLMAN.

He Favors Action to Break Down the Monopoly.

Without any reference to the present strike the Pullman company is to be brought up with a round turn. Senator Sherman of Ohio recently made a statement regarding the exactions and meanness of the company to a Washington paper, from which the following extracts are taken.

It is something that I have been thinking about for a long time and I have talked with my colleagues in the Senate sufficiently to find that they are in hearty sympathy with my effort to cause a reform in the rates charged by the Pullman and other sleeping car companies. I regard these rates as simply infamous. If you get a lower berth and no one has the upper the porter insists upon putting down the lid and so increasing your misery rather than giving you the benefit of the air. I do not know why this is so unless it is an effort on the part of the company to make their prestige greater and all the more emendurable.

It is perfectly clear to me that there is a way to reach the sleeping car problem with ease through government action. States have in many instances adopted regulations intended to reduce the evil of extortionate charges on the railroads, but there are few, if any, railroads that run sleepers through but one state, and thus these laws are of no avail, for no state can regulate any corporation beyond its own limits. The Pullman Company, for instance, is very rich, made so by the enormous and disproportionate profits on its cars. With half that profit the company could make a great deal of money and give the public better service.

Perhaps you do not know, but it is nevertheless a fact, that the Pullman company charges each railroad running its cars a cent a mile for every car, and this goes into the pockets of Pullman in addition to the rates paid by the passengers. For instance, between New York and Chicago the railroad pays about $10 for each sleeper run, and the Pullman company gets several times that sum in addition from the public. That $10 paid by the railroad is counted into the running expenses of the road, and is eventually paid by the passenger in the fare he gives for his ride. So the traveler pays twice, in reality for his questionable accommodations on board a sleeper. I feel these heavy rates myself frequently, for when we go out to our home in Ohio we have to pay for my wife, my daughter and myself, as much for sleeper rates as for the entire railroad fares. Then, too, I think the system of tipping the employes of the company should be discontinued. It is a small matter in the individual case, but is an extortion to pay the porter for each trip you take. The trouble is that these men are not paid enough by the company. If they were paid adequate salaries the passengers would not be obliged to come forward to help them out. I really think the men need the money in most cases, and I always give because I do not want to feel or to appear mean about the matter. There is a sort of compulsion about it though that is very disagreeable, and it could all be avoided.

These points, of course, are all to be gone over by the committee on interstate commerce, which will probably take up the matter as soon as Senator Butler returns from the south. This matter has already met with the approval of a large majority of the senate. There is one matter that should not be overlooked in this consideration. The main patents on these sleepers have expired, and there is no reason why the railroads should not begin now to make and run their own cars. I was acquainted with the original inventor of the sleeping car, who is now dead. He was obliged to sell out to the Pullman company and they have held the monopoly with great care. The first patents have now, I believe, run out, and although the Pullmans have taken out letters for some improvements, I think it would be perfectly easy for the monopoly to be broken.

POPULIST PHANTASMS.

FOUNDATIONS FIXED ON AIRY DREAMS.

Not a Party for the People—Bad Breaks in their Nominations.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—The Easton Populist devotes considerable space in your morning paper for publishing a lot of rot growing out of the Populist attitude upon government interference in the late strike. It is the acme of nonsense, and is "irrelevent, immaterial and incompetent" to the main question. A while back he sorrowed because federal authority was invoked to preserve peace and order, and that corporate interests had asked military protection which was due them, and so on ad infinitum. When he is cornered and called down from his mistaken and crazy position, he gives an answer characteristic of Populists: "I decline to answer the question." His faculties of perception are equal to that of the long-eared fool in Æsops fables, when he says that I am advocating the cause of the railroad. My contention, in opposition to that of the Populists, was that everybody, whether an individual or a corporation, had certain rights due from the national power, and one of them is protection. This is a plain matter, admitting no contradiction, and only the Populists, through their spokesman, are foolish enough to deny it.

The Populists' continual cry of working in the interest of the people is becoming so stale and ridiculous that, but for their brazen effrontery, they would not have the hardihood and gall to father that now meaningless phrase.

Where were the Populists in the late industrial trouble? Were they on the side of the people then? When the innocent third party of that contest, which was the people, numbering millions, and who were losing millions of dollars a day, because some senseless employes saw fit to engage in a worse than senseless strike for "sympathy" for a few hundred aliens in a car factory over in Chicago. Then the Populists were seen skulking around the other camp and encouraging by word and deed and by so-called "mass meetings" the misguided and the vicious to continue the railroad strike—all for nothing—which was working in direct antagonism to the interests of the people.

When the strikers became vicious and dangerous and the regular soldiers were called out to protect the interests of not only the railroad, but also the property of the innocent, and the people, where were the Populists then? On the people's side? No they all engaged in a general howl that the regulars be sent back to the Presidio and allow the then enraged strikers to go and do as they pleased.

The present speeches and articles by the Populists on government interference is extremely foolish and voices the sentiments of the prejudiced and ignorant.

It would be more to the point if they paid a little sincere attention to the people of California who are groaning under the exactions and robbery of the railroad company. Mr. Huntington says ownership means control; and as he usually controls our legislatures and courts, every man, every woman and every child is indirectly and unconsciously Mr. Huntington's slave. These matters are not irremediable; and a right way to effect their cure without turning everything up side down and in side out.

In the opinion of the eastern Populist no one is competent to legislate, if he be not a believer in Cator. In his opinion he belongs to that insignificant minority which is being ostracized for the sake of a better government by decent and patriotic men who have the success and perpetuity of our government at heart.

The ideal American citizen, as an impartial critic would observe, does no resemble the modern Populist. He does not go hollering around the country, not knowing what is the matter with him. Nor is his voice heard in papers of an incendiary kind, urging by support and significant hints, lawless men to pursue their lawless course. If Christ came to California, think you He would countenance the methods of the Populist organs and the incendiary speakers who make themselves partners in the conspiracy to down pence and order? They see everything but their own faults and fallacies through a magnifying glass. Let a Democrat or a Republican make a statement of any political significance and the disciple of Cator will be sure to brand the words the work of the money power and the author a "tool of the corporations."

This Easton Populist claims superiority for candidates on the third party ticket. It may not be amiss to examine into their merits, and, to save space, the more prominent will only be considered at present. They nominated for state controller John S. Dore of West Park. This candidate is an out and out Populist and claims to be interested in the welfare of our country, but principally in local government. He claims to have an unceasing admiration for the workingmen, and shouts aloud that he will always stand by them. He says all this and a lot more, and yet he is known to be the Chinaman's best friend in the county. On his estate he invariably employs Chinese, and seldom, if ever, a white man. This exclusion of his own race does not speak well for one who comes before them for their votes. He is insincere. Is he also a political hypocrite?

Then there is Van Meter, who has run for different offices which did not seek him. He is not gaining any laurels, and for that matter he has very little political prestige to lose. The public are aware that his candidacy for different positions in different parties have been to pronounced to savor of accident.

E. W. Risley, the other candidate for superior judge, is one of those who, it is reported upon good authority, became a proselyte of Populism a few hours before the opening of the county convention. In his speeches Mr. Risley gives two reasons why he is a Populist. First, he is a believer in government ownership of railroads; and second, because he favors rigid economy in county affairs. As the principal newspapers in San Francisco and elsewhere, and the rank and file of the older parties, are now in favor of the government assuming control of those railroads which belong to the people, and which will soon become legally forfeited, signing petitions to effect the change, Mr. Risley's first reason why he is a Populist does not hold good. His second reason is a farce, considering his record on that matter in the past. Mr. Risley was the stenographer to the late grand jury, and his charges to the county for acting in that capacity were the very highest. Like the railroad, he charged "all the traffic would bear." For reporting the proceedings and afterwards transcribing them, his charges averaged from $17 to $18 per diem. However, the supervisors refused to allow the exorbitant claim. If this gentleman, who is a Populist candidate, and now holding an office under a different regime, would set an example of practicing what he teaches, the voters and taxpayers would have some confidence in his plea for economy.

J. W. Traber is another cause for amusement. In a recent speech he claimed to be a genuine Democrat, a true Republican, a good Prohibitionist and an excellent Populist. It is clearly apparent to an intelligent observer that he does not know what he is or where he is at.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Mrs. Margaret Harris, familiarly known to her most intimate friends as "Auntie" Harris, was very pleasantly surprised Tuesday afternoon by a number of her friends. They all came prepared to save the hostess all the trouble accompanying such intrusions. Each one brought a basket filled with good things. "Auntie" at first remonstrated with them because she had not been given an inkling of the event, but she soon gave way and joined in with the jolly crowd for a good time. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lynes, Mrs. J. M. Statham, Mrs. Lull, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mrs. J. Peckham, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. L. D. Hoppock, Mrs. F. Banta, Miss Anna Peckham, Miss Dollie Banta and Miss Reynolds.

They Want the Earth.

The average Chinese is proverbially a modest man, but he wants everything in sight and wants it badly, too. Yesterday a celestial dropped into THE REPUBLICAN office and asked for the news about the prospective war with Japan. He was told the struggle had not commenced, but war would likely begin in a few days. "Ah velly good!" he exclaimed; "Japan now, but soon be all China. You savee; no more Japan; all China; China get all." "What next?" asked the reporter. "China get America, too; soon be all China—you wait little while—you see," and the Mongolian took himself off with a grin from ear to ear.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The Odd Fellows Entertain Their Friends.

Spinney hall was well filled last night by the members of the Fresno encampment of the I. O. O. F., accompanied by their wives, daughters and other's daughters. It was the regular meeting for the installment of officers. But the more pleasant part came after the installation. A short musical and literary program was given. Then all joined in a grand march, which finally led down stairs where tables had been spread in the vacant room on the first floor. Two long tables extended the entire length of the room, and they fairly groaned under the weight of the palatable viands on the board.

A. M. Drew acted as toastmaster and a number of toasts, mostly humorous, were responded to. After the banquet all again repaired to the hall above, when dancing was in order. A large number of visitors from Sanger, Selma, Traver, Madera and other towns partook of the hospitality of the local lodge.

The officers installed were: C.P., J. F. Hamilton; H.P., J. C. Dressell; S. W., H. Ford; J.W., I. H. Patterson; scribe, A. Shields; treasurer, H. Ahrensberg; I.G., F. Knobloch; O.G.., C. S. Henry Miller's New County.

From the Modesto News.

It is understood that at the next session of the legislature Henry Miller, the cattle king, will make an effort to have another new county carved out in this valley. The proposition is to take in portions of Fresno, Merced and Stanislaus counties, including the town of Newman. Los Banos is to be made the county seat. If Miller undertakes the project only the most determined fight can defeat it. The scheme is understood to be a pet one on his part, and he will handly stop short of any cost to carry it out. Experience has taught that "money talks" in the legislature as well as out of it.

White Women Employed.

The Earl Fruit Company have discontinued the employment of Chinese at their packing house in this city, and now have a force of white women employed it packing pears. Many of the women are expert packers, and others learn readily. There is no trouble about getting any number of white people required for fruit packing in this city. There are many industrious people anxious to get work.
